Map shows trails in Cumberland County

- Mayberry Hill Preserve – A short, easy walk – under a mile – in the woods.
- Rattlesnake Mountain – A very popular hike, .8-miles of fairly steep climbing to one lookout (one way) and another 5. miles to a second lookout. Dogs are not allowed on the main trail.
- Hacker's Hill – This is not really a walk with a trail; it's more a lovely destination with amazing views – a meadow-y park of 27 acres.
- Jugtown Forest – The 5,000-acre working forest, owned by Hancock Lumber/Land Company, is a magnet for snowmobiles and four-wheelers, as well as dog sledders! We x-c skied and fat biked the trails. The walking is easy and fairly flat.
